FINANCIAL. There was no change in the attitud of money agifairs to-day, unless it be that collaterals and names are scanned among money people with increasing caution. Some of the banks had an inhe demand, has become more pressing. There is a fixed belief that the autumn will be one of those times that try men's $24 00. ckets. It is expected that money will come tight, and that the thoughtless and imprudent will "fall by the way," and therefore prudence is the order of the day, and "the signs of the times" favor a guarded policy.
